

Press release: Joël Robuchon has passed away

Paris, August 6, 2018

It is with infinite sadness that the team of Joël Robuchon confirms his passing away, this Monday 6 August 2018.

The chef with the most Michelin guide stars in the world, Meilleur Ouvrier de France (MOF), considered best cook of the century by Gault & Millau, Joël Robuchon was an exceptional chef, but also a visionary and the ambassador of French gastronomy.

Since his beginnings in Poitiers, he made a deep mark on cuisine, that extended well beyond the spheres of gastronomy.

His most emblematic dishes, from his mashed potatoes to caviar gelée dotted with cauliflower purée, are a reflection of his relationship, both technical and emotional, to his art.

Above all, Joel was committed to sharing his know-how by training hundreds of young chefs, opening some twenty establishments all over the world, and giving access to his recipes to so many.

We wish to remember him for his generosity, his creativity and his passion for sharing his art.

Details about the funeral and related information will be communicated later.
